

Polsinelli Associate Nicholas M. Cassidy Named to Board of Directors at Rocky Mountain Fisher House Foundation

DENVER, February 19, 2020 – Nicholas M. Cassidy, an associate in the commercial litigation practice at Am Law 100 firm Polsinelli in Denver, has been appointed to serve as a member of the board of directors for Rocky Mountain Fisher House Foundation. Fisher Houses are homes where active military and veterans' families can stay free of charge while a loved one is in the hospital, providing transportation, outings from the hospital setting and a sense of community with other families in similar situations. There are currently 85 Fisher Houses in the United States and one in Germany with more being planned by the Fisher House Foundation.

The Rocky Mountain Fisher House provides a place for visiting families while their loved one receives inpatient medical care at the Denver VA Medical Center/Eastern Colorado Healthcare System. The Rocky Mountain Fisher House Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit with a mission to help sustain the Rocky Mountain Fisher House through awareness and fundraising campaigns.

"I have always been grateful for the contributions of our servicemen and women who risk their lives every day to protect our freedom," said Cassidy. "It is an honor and privilege to give back by supporting the foundation so the house can help the growing number of house guests and their loved ones receiving care in Denver."

At Polsinelli, Cassidy's practice is focused on commercial litigation. Further areas of interest include agribusiness, food and beverage litigation, data privacy, data breach litigation, legal applications for blockchain technology, legal writing and trial presentation techniques.

"Nick joining our board is a great example of community-Veteran cooperation to serve those who've served and I couldn't be happier to welcome him with his passion and skill-set," said Izzy Abbass, president of the Rocky Mountain Fisher House Foundation Board of Directors and a United States Army Veteran, who is currently the GM of Government Services at Trilogy Networks. "The Rocky Mountain Fisher House Foundation Board of Directors is very excited to have Nick join us and help us provide needed assistance to Veterans and their families as they are going through challenges following service."

Fisher Houses – including Rocky Mountain Fisher House – rely on support from donors and fundraisers, including individuals that donate accumulated air miles for the Hero Miles program and hotel points to the Hotels for Heroes program for use by military and veteran families.
